THE FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The choice seats in the gallery were secured at an arry hour by the ladies, who occupied at the opening of the Senate about three-fourths of the space dilotted to the public. As on the organization of the allotted to the public. As on the organization of the Senate into a court there was not one dusky face to be seen, and as far as could be seen no representative of the fustian portion of the constituency appeared to have found favor in the sight of the ticket holders, the foor was arranged as before. The chaplain again invoked a blessing on those now coming to the consideration of grave and momentous matters relating both to individuals and to the national welfare, praying that God shall preside over this high court, that justice be done in the name of God and of all the people of this great nation.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, March 23, 1868. The Chaplain, in his opening prayer, referred to

The Chaplain, in his opening prayer, referred to the impeachment proceedings as follows:—

Grant them, especially this day when great issues are to be presented here and in the Senate, a double measure of Thy holy spirit, so that here and there, in the House and in the Senate, they may be guided by that wisdom which cannot err; that every proceeding be conducted according to the principles of eternal right, and that at last a decision shall be reached in accordance with the mind of God.

Mr. CLARKE, (rep.) of Kansas, presented joint resolutions of the Kansas Legislature pledging unanimously the support to Congress, not only in the removal of Andrew Johnson if found guilty, but of every other obstruction to reconstruction on a legal pagis.

resolution, and demanded the previous question:—
Resolved, That in the judgment of the House it is equally just to the noiders of public securities and to the people of the United States that the bonds issued by the government shall be paid in the lawful money of the United States on the lasts on which the public debt was contracted, and that such bonds, except when by law expressly payable in coin, should be paid as the same shall from time to time mature and the public resources shall permit in the lawful money of the United States, commonly known as the United States notes.

Messrs. Garffield, (rep.) of Ohio, and Blaire, (rep.) of Me., expressed the hope that the previous question would not be seconded and that the resolution would be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The House refused to second the previous question.

The House refused to second the previous question.

Mr. Kerr, (dem.) of Ind., moved to lay the resolution on the table, in order to have a test vote on that question, and called for the yeas and nays.

The House refused to order the yeas and nays and Mr. Kerr withdrew the motion.

Mr. Biaine moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Holman called for the yeas and nays, and the resolution was then referred.

The House refused to order the yeas and nays, and the resolution was then referred.

The REMOVAL OF COLLECTOR STEADMAN.
On motion of Mr. Shanes, (rep.) of Ind., the Secretary of the Treasury was called on for information as to the reason assigned for the removal of James B. Steadman, collector of internal revenue for the First district of Louisiaha.

Mr. WASHBURNE, (rep.) of Ill., inquired whether the joint resolution was before the House for immediate action?

The SPEAKER replied that it was.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Ill.—Without reference to ommittee?

The Speaker—Yes.
Mr. Washburne, of III.—Is it possible?
Mr. Ross, (dem.) of III., made the point of order hat the joint resolution made an appropriation and just, therefore, be first considered in the Committee. must, therefore, be first considered in the Committee of the Whole.

The Speaker sustained the point of order, and the joint resolution was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

DEPARTURE FOR THE SENATE CHAMPER.

The House having recoved a message from the Senate, stating that it was ready to proceed with the trial of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, at one o'clock resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, in the chair, and proceeded, headed by the chairman, who was attended by Mr. McPherson, the Clerk, and Mr. Buxkon, Assistant Doorkeeper, to the Senate chamber, to attend the impeachment trial.

REFURN FROM THE BENATE CHAMBER.

At 3cm minutes to five o'clock the members of the House returned to their hall from the Senate.

The Speaker having called the House to order, Mr. Washburns, of Ill., as chairman of the Committee of the Whole, reported that they had, according to order, attended the trial of the impeachment of the President before the Senate, and the answer of the President to said articles had been exhibited ams read in their progress. Progress was made, when the Senate sitting on the trial adjourned to meet tomorrow at one o'clock.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Speaker had before the House a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury in response to a resolution stating by what authority Colonel Cooper continues to act as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Also the resolution of the Convention of North Carolina endorsing the action of the House of Representatives in the impeachment of the President and asking the removal of the political disabilities of certain persons therein named.

MISCURI CONTESTED BLECTION CASE.

Mr. POLAND, (rep.) of Vt., from the Committee of Elections, made a report on the contested election case from the Ninth district of Missouri declaring that George W. Anderson is not entitled to the seat, but that William T. Smitzler is entitled to the seat as a member of the Fortieth Congress.

Mr. McClurg, (rep.) of Mo., was permitted to make a minority report.

The impeachment managers reputed to the House, anticipating the answer of the President to the articles of impeachment, are prepared, as soon as Mr. Boutwell comes in, to present to the consideration of the House a general replication to the answer of the President as filed to-day. I have made some inquiry since leaving the Senate, but have not certainly ascertained where that gentleman is.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Ill.—Let them put in their answer.

Mr. BINGHAM—I move that the Managers have

Mr. BINGHAM—I move that the Managers have leave to file to-morrow a replication to the answer of the President to the articles of impeachment exhibited against him.

Mr. Wood, (dem.) of N. Y.—I desire to move an invited against him to the designed after the replication is Mr. Wood, (dem.) of N. Y.—I desire to move an inquiry whether it is designed after the replication is put in to give us an opportunity to examine and discuss it before it is authorized to be presented to the Senate as the action of the House, or whether the Managers assume the exclusive right to prepare a replication for the House.

Mr. Bingham—That rests with the House. They understand what a general replication is. The House had set up the averment that the President has committed several high crimes and misdemeanors, which the President has denied.

Mr. Wood—It is desirable to discuss the replication.

Mr. WOOD—It is desirable to discuss the replication.

Mr. Eldride, (dem.) of Wis.—If the replication is to be presented as an answer to the President, it cannot be done without the authority of the House. The responsibility rests on the House, and not on the Managers. I do not want the Managers to file a replication in my name before I khow what it is. I have heard the answer of the President read, and I am not prepared to deny his answer. I believe it is true. It is a part of the current history of the country, and the answer is every word the truth, and the House cannot deny it. I do not want the House to deny the facts.

Mr. Blaine—When the Impeachment Managers were to be elected the gentleman from Wisconsin and those who acted with him said they took no part or lot in the transaction. It therefore ill becomes them to interpose objections.

Mr. Eldridge—If the gentleman from Maine recollects the facts he knows that we took part in the disconsistent of the control of the control to interpose objections.

Mr. ELDRIDGE—If the gentleman from Maine recollects the facts he knows that we took part in the discussion on the articles of imprechament.

Mr. BLAINE—You declined to take part in the election of the Managers.

Mr. ELDRIDGE—The gentleman from Maine undertakes to be very sharp. I supposed I was under, stood, as every lawyer would understand me, when I said the main acts were true, not having reference to the conclusions. I believe the answer of the President is true; and if it be true, as the gentleman from Maine says, we refused to take part in electing the Managers, that is a strong reason why, in our name, they should put in an answer to those things we assume to be facts.

Mr. BINGHAM—All we wish is to respond to-morrow by order of the House with a general replication. It is a very plain thing, known of all men.

Mr. WOODWARD, (dem.) of Pa.—Is the motion open to amendment?

The SPEAKER—Not now.

Mr. BINGHAM—I would suggest that the House take a recess until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, in order to act upon the subject.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of III.—I rise to a point of order. We want to hear what the gentleman from Ohio is saying, and we have a right to hear it.

The SPEAKER sustained the point of order, and then rapped with his gavel and requested gentlemen to be seated and give their attention to the proceedings.

Mr. Wood rose to speak, but men to be scated and give their accordings, ceedings.

Mr. Wood rose to speak, but
Mr. BINGHAM refused to yield to him. The latter then moved that the House take a recess till 11 o'clock to-morrow morning in order to act on the general replication, and to authorize the Managers to at once present it to the Senate.

Mr. Wood rose to a question of order, saying the motion for a recess was debatable in the absence of the previous question.

motion for a recess was according to the the previous question.

The Speaker replied it was not, according to the uniform ruling, debatable.

The House then voted to take a recess until eleven o'clock to-morrow morning to act on the replication, and then, at ten minutes past five o'clock, adjourned.

As usual the Rio papers are momentarily expecting to hear of a grand attack on the Paraguayan Gibraltar, Humaita. This has been expected for two or three years, but the enthusiastic inhabitants of the rival countries ("Flumivenses") exhibit no evidence of being tired of the story.

The Marquis Caxias, General-in-Chief of the army, had had a conference with the Admiral, the result of which had been an agreement on a plan of simulta neous attack by land and water on the devoted Humaita. It is estimated that nine iron-clads and 16,000 troops on land will make the attack. The first effort will be to remove the chain which is submerged across the river, and which it is thought the allies are prepared to accomplish. When the reconnoissance was made it is stated this could have been effected if the monitors had come up to time, which they falled to do. The country is much excited over this prolonged war, and seditious pamphlets have appeared in Rio against the government. A Ministerial crisis was rumored, but apparently with no

Through a region of hundreds of thousands of square miles it was desolat-ing every square league. Whole families died. The dead were left unburied, the sick were untended, medicines and physicians not in reach, or if near not employed, from a superstitious dread that they had caused what they could not cure. The whole number who have died in the valley of the Plate in the last two months is estimated at seventy thousand persons. The most healthy localities have been attacked; no age or condition has been spared; all remedies have failed; the best physicians have died; it is as if "the angel of death spread his wings on the blast." During this sad time very few Americans have died. In this city other Mr. Fuller, of Iowa. At Rosario Americans have suffered more. Ex-Governor Dana, of Maine; H. The natives have been so terror-stricken that those of them who have not died have fled, so that extensive districts are found without one remaining native.

is partially restored. But still commerce is in a bad state. Every steamer takes away large consignments of gold; ships are going away in ballast and warehouses are crowded with unsold goods. The low rates at which farmers have sold their wool and the mere nominal price of sheep are much against the farmer. The quarantine having now been taken of the onharbored steamers are again in the river, and gradually the former condition of things returns.

There is a deep feeling of opposition to the Paraganyan war. All parties are tired of it except the contractors; the enthusiasm of these does not abate. Newspapers are bold in opposition, and so are public speakers. At the public meetings no one who ex-

Thus for the friends of Colonel Domingo Faustino Sarminato, Minister to the United States, have successed in getting the popular voice for their favorite. The Marshal Caxias, Brazilian, at present in chief command of the allied forces, has declared his purpose to carry out a new policy. As the old one has been to wait and procrastinate, it is inferred that he intends to operate vigorously. The raid on Asuncion seems to be deferred, and the plan adopted of shutting up Lopez in the corner by running a line from Itati to Tebicuari. But all calculation based on Lopez's exhaustion or reduction have so far signally failed. At the time when he has been supposed to be the least able to move, then has he sallied out on his surprisea. General Porto Allegro, who has commanded now for a year at Tuyuty, has resigned and has gone back to Brazil. He is a good soldier, a fine disciplinarian, though it is still a mystery how it was that a raid of eight thousand Paraguayans entered his camp of ten thousand men at daylight and burned his baggage and stores, and but for getting drunk on his liquors would have carried off his whole camp, bag and baggage. He raillied and repelled the horde at great loss, but not until drunkenness had demoralized them.

At Montevideo there was a row between the Provisional Governor and his son, a family quarrel that threatened a revolution for a while. The son, a harem scarem youth, happened to have command of all the troops in the city, and on quarrelling with his father he called them out, took possession of the various foreign men-of-war in port sent ashore 600 men, who took possession of the Custom House, and this tended greatly to bring about a peaceful result. At length young Flores somehow got banished, and as a vote of Congress will be necessary to enable him to return he may not soon trouble his father again.

The rebellion at Rosario, involving nearly the whole province of Santa Fe, has about fizzled out. The principal part of the rebels have surrendered and dispersed. One Goucho

The value of the currency does not change, and the banks hold out well under the unusual state of affairs. Exchange on England has not varied much from forty-eight pence to the gold dollar.

There is very little fear now of a civil war. The discontent with the Paraguayan war will find some other mode of expression than by revolution.

The executors of the estate of the late General Asboth, Minister from the United States, are likely to find trouble enough to settle up his affairs, as the debts are enormous and the assets limited.

Colonel Apariclo is said to be again trying to stir up a revolution in Uruguay. There is very little danger of his success.

Testerday but little in the way of real estate opera tions occured. But one firm of auctioneers advertised to sell at the Exchange, and even they only disposed of one piece of property, although several aisposed of one piece of property, atmough several were announced to be put up. The attendance at the salesroom was but slight. Notwithstanding this dull commencement the week promises, however, quite as much activity as those that have preceded it. Especially is this apparent in Brooklyn property, one firm alone, Messrs. Johnson & Miller, having advertised one thousand lots as coming under the hammer, of which the choicest are to be offered to-day and Thursday next. The Eric Contempt Cases—The Matters Re-ferred for Further Proofs—Judge Cardozo Declines to "Take a Hand" in the Game.

Before Judge Barnard.

The People, &c., vs. Alexander S. Diven; Same vs. William B. Skidmore; Same vs. Frederick A. Lane; Same vs. J. C. Bancroft Davis.—In this court yesterday morning an immense array of counsel, engaged on both sides of the great Erie litigation, were in attendance, as the case, it was expected, would be brought up on several distinct motions.

Mr. Persillo moved that the matters of the proceed.

Mr. Rapallo moved that the matters of the proceed-ings in contempt against the above named parties, directors of the Eric Railway Company, be referred to a referee to take proof of the facts alleged in the interrogatories, answers and cross interrogatories which had been filed.

Mr. Field would like to know what authority the court had for ordering a reference in the case. The statute provided for a reference upon the presenta-tation of proofs on either side, but the code had no reference to these proceedings, and there was no provision for a reference in such cases. Edwards Pierpont said that in the case of Mr. Lane the answers which had been filed showed that he was absent from the city at the time these charges were made, and with the exception of one single fact his answer was a denial of knowledge of every issue made.

was absent from the city at the time these charges were made, and with the exception of one single fact his answer was a denial of knowledge of every issue made.

Mr. Eaton, who appeared for Mr. Skidmore, said that in his case there was nothing but what the court would go into and hear, while the sending of the case to a referee might only result in an interminable examination on the reference.

Mr. Vanderpoel said the statute gave either party the right to show further proofs, and in this matter it would not be denied that the answers filed denied certain of the facts charged.

Mr. Pierpont, in answer to a question by Judge Barnard, said that so far as a violation of the injunction was alleged against the parties represented by himself, it was not even pretended that the injunction was ever served upon them, and Mr. Lane was never made a party to the proceedings.

Mr. Field suggested that the court hear the interrogatories read and then determine whether a reference was needed.

Mr. Rapallo considered that the question was simply whether his Honor would take the proof before the court or whether he would send it to a referee.

Mr. Pierpont opposed the reference so far as his client was served, Mr. Lane having been out of town at the time of the violation of the injunction.

Ex-Judge Henry C. Davies contended that if service of the injunction was made upon the solicitors of the parties, the parties charged could not then plead ignorance of the fact. It had been held by the Court of Appeals that service upon the solicitor was service upon the solicitors, and voice of mineton and the solicitor had appeared.

Mr. Rapallo said it was alleged in the papers that all these parties were present at the meeting of the board of directors, and voice to read the reference of the papers that all these parties were present at the meeting of the board of directors, and voice to read the papers that all these parties to the suit at all. If the corporation was proceeded against that made the directors parties to the suit, as the suit, as the corporation could only act through its officers.

Judge Barnard asked what answer was made by Mr. I ane to the allegation that at a subsequent meeting of the board are voted to rathy the action of the previous meeting of the board.

Mr. Vanderpoet replied that Mr. Lane said in his answer that he did not know what the injunction required until after the meeting of the bit day of March.

After a little further discussion Judge Barnard said that it would be impossible for him to hear these matters day after day in consequence of other engagements. It seemed proper to him that the case should be sent before an onicer of the court to take the proofs, and this matter would be accordingly referred to John B. Haskin to take proofs of the matters at issue by the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories touching the contempt alleged, and that the referee report to the court.

James T. Brady stated that, if the court pleased, he would prefer to have some other person appointed as referce than Mr. Haskin. It was not quite certain what range the examination might take, and while he (Mr. Brady) was on very good terms personally with Mr. Haskin he would prefer to have the matter sent before Mr. Leonard. In this case there had been charges of interestedness in the higation made against a party with whom Mr. Haskin was in terms of very close friendship, and it seemed more proper to him that it should be referred to some one else.

Judge Barnard said that the referee had no discretionary power whatever in such a case, and would merely take such testimony as was offered to him, and report to the court.

Mr. Brady—Weil sir, he is objectionable to us, but if the other side insists upon it I suppose they have some reason for it.

Mr. Rapallo—i suggested Mr. Leonard some time since, and am willing that the matter should go before him.

Mr. Brady—We accept him.

Judge Barnard said that in regard to the referee named the court had known him intimately for many years and had the fullest confidence in him. Mr. Leonard was a directed to issue against them.

The following is a copy of the order appointing the referee in the contempt proceeding against Messrs. Lane, Skidmore, Diven and Davis:

The defendant having filed his answers to the interrogations heretofore filed in the above entitled matter, and Mr.— appearing as counsel for said—, and Messrs. Henry E. Davies, Fullerton, Rapalio and Vanderpoel sppearing as counsel for the people:—On motion of Marshall B. Champlain, Attorney General, it is ordered that the hearing in the said matter be and the same is hereby adjourned to the 4th day of April, 1868, at 11 A. M., at the City Hall, New York, and that the defendant do attend at that time and place and the plaintiffs moving for a reference as hereby ordered, to which the defendant objected, as bot within the power of the court, which objection the court overruled. It is hereby further ordered that John B. Hisskin be and he is hereby appointed referee, to take such other proofs concrning the said alleged contempt as shail be produced by either party, and that he report the same to the court, and that such reference proceed on a summons by the referee to either party of two days and shail be produced by either party, and that he report the same to the court, and that such reference pro-ceed on a summons by the referee to either party of two days to attend before him on such days and times as such referee shall appoint or to which the same shall be adjourned.

GEORGE G. BARNARD, J. S. C.

Mr. Rapallo then stated that there were one or two other matters in connection with the case which had been set down for to-day—the motion for the continuance of the injunction in the proceedings against baniel Drew and the proceeding by the Attorney General, which had in effect been stayed. The court directed these matters to be adjourned until Monday Mr. Rapallo then called up the motion for the continuance of the injunction granted by Judge Cardozo in the suit of Bloodgood vs. the Eric Railway Com-pany, &c., and which enjoined all meetings of the board of directors so long as Frank Work was ex-board of directors so long as Frank Work was excunded.

Mr. Field objected and said that that motion should be brought on before Judge Cardozo.

After a little discussion on this point the parties went before Judge Cardozo, who was sitting at special term, in the adjoining building (new Court House), and Mr. Rapailo here moved the same matter.

Judge Cardozo said that when he granted that injunction he did not understand that the case would ever be brought up for argument before him, and he certainly did not wish to take any part in this litigation whatever. He could not see what objection there could be to the case being turned over to the justice before whom all the proceedings had been heard thus far.

Mr. Brady and Mr. Field objected to the matter, so far us this branch of the case was concerned, being far us this branch of the case was concerned. far as this branch of the case was concerned, being sent before Judge Barnard, and after a little urging the court set down the motion for Monday next.

SUPERIOR COURT-SPECIAL TERM. Alleged Fraudulent Representations and Misappropriation.

Lucius F. Rolfe vs. Charles M. Delmar.-This was motion to vacate an order of arrest granted against the defendant. The plaintiff was a clerk in the State Agency of Washington and Soldiers' Union Association. In October, 1868, a concert was got up for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home in Washington. The defendant was employed by him to sell tickets in New York to the amount of $2,400. Plaintiff alleger

New York to the amount of $2,400. Plaintiff alleges that defendant appropriated the money to his own use and refused to hand it over to the proper quarter, in consequence of which he was arrested and lodged in Ludlow street jall, where he has remained during the last two months. Defendant claims that inasmuch as the money was collected by him for a lottery and not for a concert, the plaintiff cannot recover, because it is an illegal cause of action.

Plaintiff alleges that the defendant represented himself to be a member of the firm of Duncan, Navarro & Co., and gave thirty shares of the New York West India/Mail Steamship Company, together with the stock and notes turned out valueless. The stock was alleged to have been forged by the defendant on a certificate from the book of the former company, which has been since dissolved. Plaintiff further avers that there was no such firm in existence as that represented by the defendant, as none of the partners could be found, nor had they presented any affidavits to the court, and further, that the money received by the defendant for the kets was not for a lottery, but for a charitable and benevolent object.

The defendant in answer, contends that the stock and notes were perfectly good at the time they were given to the plaintiff.

The court reserved decision.

The meeting adjourned to meet three weeks from date.

First Escapes.—The question of fire escapes to neeting of the delegates to the above committee

PIRE ESCAPES.—The question of fire escapes to tenement houses is a matter of the most vital impor-tance, and has engaged public attention for a long tance, and has engaged public attention for a long time, more particularly since the passage of the law which required the owners of new and old houses to have them immediately put up on their premises. Since the 1st of January the Superintendent of Public Buildings has notified upwards of one thousand eight hundred of these persons, and it is thought that all but two hundred are complying with the law. Up to the present moment two hundred and fifty have reported the erection of escapes, but many others have also put them up who have not yet reported to the department. About three hundred have furnished their houses with escapes without waiting for any notice from the Superintendent or his subordinates. There are but very few proprietors in the city who disregard the law, and none have been punished for disobedience yet, as the test case which was brought before the Supreme Court some time ago has not yet been decided; and awaiting this decision the Superintendent does not deem it advisable to proceed against the others. The majority of landlords show a willingness to put up fire escapes, and if tenants would desert the houses not furnished already with such the law would be sooner complied with and human life would be better protected.

COURT OF OVER AND TERMINER.

The Eastern District Murder Case. Before Judges Lott and Troy and Justices Hoyt and The trial of Otto Schade, for the murder of Henry

The trial of Otto Schade, for the murder of Henry Shear, keepet of a lager beer saloon at the corner of Graham avenue and Richardson street, E. D., was commenced yesterday.

The Assistant District Attorney Thomas E. Pearsall opened the case for the prosecutor, detailing the circumstances of the murder.

Frederick K. Kerbshack, who was bartender for the deceased, was the first witness called. He testified that on the night of the occurrence the prisoner came into the place partially intoxicated, and called for a drink. When he asked how much he was to pay he was told 65 cents. This he disputed, contending that he owed but 50 cents. The deceased then took hold of him for the purpose of putting him out. In shoving him along he fell down the cellar steps. After the deceased returned to the saloon he said he was stabbed. Witness did not see the prisoner have a knife, nor did he see him strike the deceased.

Dr. Thiel testified to having attended deceased at the time, when he found an incised wound on the left side, near the shoulder, by which the principal ariery and vein of the left arm had been severed, thus admitting the air to his heart. The wound could have been made by the claspknife shown in court.

The officers who made the arrest testified that when they went to the prisoner's house to arrest him they found him drunk in bed.

Evidence was produced on the part of the defence to show that the prisoner had always borne a good character. District Attorney Morris summed up the case for the people at some length.

Juoge Lott stated that he would defer his charge to the jury until this morning.

The court then adjourned.

THE EAST RIVER BRIDGE LAW .- The special committee of the Common Council to whom was referred the subject of the proposed loan of $3,000,000 to the East River Bridge Corporation met yesterday about twelve o'clock. There were present Aldermen Whitney, McGroatty, Daniels, Whiting and Fisher, State Senator H. C. Murphy and Alexander McCue, Corporation Counsel. The meeting was private, representatives of the press being excluded. An extended discussion was held and a report submitted favoring the granting of the ioan sought. A slight difference arose, however, as to the amount of security which the company proposed to give, two or three of the Aldermanic committee demanding greater security from them, and also requiring the bridge company to specify the time when the work will be commenced and other particulars, which they were not able to agree upon. The subject will, however, it is confidently believed, be presented for the action of the Common Council at their next meeting, on Monday, the 30th inst.
